Anyone may enroll for either day or evening classes, or for both. Most classes are open to beginning students as well as advanced. Students may enroll for any number of periods per week in any particular class, according to their convenience. The California School of Fine Arts is ideally situated on Chestnut Street, Russian Hill, overlooking San Francisco Bay. The School is served by three street car lines; a twelve minute ride from Market Street via the Municipal F line, or the Powell-Bay Cable or the Hyde Street Cable.
